

Pass Tuxis Boys Held Good Athletic Meet At Blairmore Thanksgiving Day

The Blairmore boys won the Tuxis Meet, held at Blairmore on Thanksgiving Day. In spite of the raw cold weather there was a fair-sized crowd that attended and they were not disappointed in the brand of sport that was served them. The dashes and the longer runs especially brought out some good athletic material.

The Blairmore Tuxis, probably the strongest group of its kind in the province, had no trouble in showing its superiority over the smaller groups from Bellevue and Coleman. The latter two groups went after their stronger opponents however, in a plucky manner and gave Blairmore spirited competition throughout the meet. Tuxis organizations have no age limits and as a consequence boys of fifteen and sixteen enter into competitions on the same footing as young men eighteen and older. This discrepancy was very apparent on Monday. For instance, the individual champion of the recent school meet only just got into the scoring in the Tuxis fry, owing to the fact that his opponents were too big for him. The lateness of the season made it impossible this year to divide the boys into classes according to weight and age, but it is hoped that in future meets such a classification will be possible.

Of the Coleman boys Leslie Emmerson was easily the pick. He came first in the half mile and second in both the mile and the 440 yds. run. Balloch did well in the shot put and Hayson was in the running in the running broad jump, but in both cases the boys had to acknowledge defeat before their heavier and older rivals.

Financially the meet was a success as the sale of tags netted about $25.00. This money will be devoted to maintaining the Boy's Work Board for the province.

The work of putting on the meet fell almost wholly to Mr. Young and his Tuxis group. They are to be congratulated for the splendid way that the meet was carried off. Messrs. Blevin and Watts looked after Coleman's end of it while Rev. Mr. Oyer lined up the Bellevue athletes.

Are You Good at Riddles?

It is rather a conundrum to the average resident in Coleman to understand why it is he has to pay 65c a pound for bacon and 85c a pound for pork when the stock market price in Calgary for hogs is 11 1/2 a pound. Good butcher steers are quoted at 4c to 5c a pound, while beef retail is at about 30c.

It does not seem reasonable that the fellow who kills these animals should receive around six times as much as the man who raises them. Possibly if we solved the riddle it might explain why Coleman has seven or eight firms selling—not raising—meat.

Local and General Briefs

The Eastern Star ball held in the Opera House on Wednesday evening of this week, was as usual, well patronized, and proved to be one of the most pleasant social events of the season.

Armistice Day on Monday of this week was commemorated at the Holy Ghost Catholic Church in Coleman by a requiem high mass for the soldiers who gave their lives in the Great War. A large congregation was present.

Mr. John Kwansey, of High River, arrived in Coleman on Friday last to attend the marriage of his sister, Miss Mary Kwansey, which takes place on Monday of next week.

Dame Rumor has it that the price of Mr. and Mrs. P. and B. in Coleman show signs of shrinking since The Journal introduced Mr. A. Booth to the local butchers. From expressions heard on all sides, three parties should have met years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Brocklehurst returned on Tuesday morning's train from a trip to Calgary.

Mr. J. Downie resumed his position as teller in the Bank of Commerce on Tuesday of this week, after being off duty for over a month on account of illness.

Our local meat purveyors might quite rightly be classed in the same category as the man who did not know that Abe Lincoln was dead. Some of them do not seem to know that the war is over and that the local miners are not now receiving $6.58 a day.

The Knights of Pythias masquerade ball held in the Opera House last Friday evening drew a good sized crowd who thoroughly enjoyed the affair. Many pretty costumes were in evidence beside a variety of the comic kind. The net proceeds from the dance will be forwarded to the Wood's Orphan Home at Calgary.

Mrs. Mary Lonsbury came out of the local hospital on Tuesday, having considerably recovered from her recent injury, and is staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLennan, Blairmore Enterprise.

Jimmy Evans, the speedy forward of the Coleman senior amateur hockey team for the past two or three seasons, has signed up with the Edmonton Eskimos.

Local Basketballers Making Goals While The Sun Shines

Basket ball has got away to a good start this week, with a total membership of about 24 men, in a four team schedule and if the weather does not turn suddenly cold they expect to continue play until the end of November. The dance floor in the rink is the scene of activities—three nights a week, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The High School boys also work out quite regularly and are taking to the game with great gusto.

On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays the lady basketballers hold forth. Although the basketball season is quite short the girls hope to regain their "shooting eye" before very long and to tangle with Bellevue who are hankering for a game.

The main cost of installing the basketball apparatus was met by the Women's Institute, while each member of the club subscribes a small fee towards defraying other costs.

The following are the officers of the club: President, Mr. A. Graham; Sec.-Treas., W. T. Watts; Executive Committee, Messrs. W. Whitaker, F. Brannan, J. Ferko, Misses M. Muir, G. Price, D. Burns. The men's teams line up as follows: Team I—Graham, Brennan, Johnson, Price, Barnes, Rippon. Team II—Gardiner, Kimmerson, Short, Hall, Ashidge, Green. Team III—Hart, Hayson, Whitaker, Holstead, Kubin, Lonsbury. Team IV—Evans, Brocklehurst, Watts, A. F. Short, Cooke.

The Misses Evelyn Stout and Orma Green were joint hostesses at a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. A. Dewar, 3rd street, on Monday evening, November 1st. Cards and other games were played and total points decided the prize winners. Miss Gladys Morgan, Blairmore, received first, with Miss Emily Greenhalgh, second, and Miss Maureen Cooke, third. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. About twenty young people enjoyed the hospitality of their hostesses.

Local Elks To Hold Smoker.

At the last regular meeting of Coleman Lodge No. 117, B.P.O.E., it was decided to hold a smoker in the lodge room on Friday evening, November 19th, immediately following closing of lodge. A good program is being arranged by the committee who have this matter in charge, and every Elk in Coleman should make a special effort to be present on this occasion.

Popular Coleman Girl "Showered"

Mrs. John Pietroky and Mrs. Joe Michalek were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Mary Kwansey, of the home of Mrs. John Pietroky on Monday evening of this week. About fifteen or twenty young girl friends of the bride-to-be were present and Miss Kwansey received many useful and beautiful presents.

R. has been operating the road expired on November 10th, under a three month's notice given by the Government last August.

The first national labor union in the United States is said to have been the printers of which Horace Greeley was the first president.

Capacity House Greeted Miss Enid Cole's Variety Concert at Bellevue Monday Night

The Armistice Day Variety Concert given in Bellevue on Monday evening under the direction of Miss Enid Cole drew a capacity house, and it is not over stating it to say, that everyone of them in attendance left the theatre sorry that the curtain was down on the last scene and truly glad that they had been amongst those present. From the very first scene "Rule Britannia" until the final chorus, "O Canada," there was not a dull moment in the entire program. Everyone of the thirty odd items was rendered in an artistic and praiseworthy manner, and all were staged with real professional skill and snappy sequence. There was no tedious wait between the numerous turns. Every minute of the 90 minute program was brimful of good wholesome enjoyment, which had the effect of leaving with the audience at the finish a keen desire for more.

It would hardly be fair to the forty odd young ladies who took part in the program to mention any in particular, as they are one and all deserve the highest commendation, but there is no misnaming the fact that the parts taken by Miss Monica Hall and Miss Peggie Cole could not have been improved upon if it had been done by professionals. This is also true in regard to the presentation of "In Flanders Fields" in which some seventeen of Miss Enid Cole's pupils took part, "Joan of Arc," "Tenting To-night" and "The Pirate Song" were also splendidly carried out with Miss Enid Cole taking the leading role. The costumes worn by those taking part in these four tableaux were admirably designed in the most minute detail to harmonize and suit the occasion, and made a very colorful and pretty setting which added much to these numbers.

The individual numbers given by several of Miss Cole's younger pupils were well received by the audience, and it is very evident that there are a number of budding artists in this group that will, in the not distant future, make their mark in the world of elocution.

To the Sarnedians Orchestra, who supplied the music, together with the special lighting effects and stage decoration, much credit is due for the splendid success achieved. Following will be found the complete program:—

A great treat is in store for the people of Coleman on Friday, November 19th, when Mr. Chas. Cooke, celebrated Indian basso and entertainer will appear at the Grand theatre.

Mr. Cooke comes extremely well recommended and gives a program of a very high order. This concert is being held under the auspices of St. Alban's W. A. and several local artists have promised to assist with the program. Mr. Cooke is touring Canada and it was with great difficulty that his services were secured as he is so much in demand all over the country.

Keep this date in mind and don't miss a concert of such exceptional merit. In addition to the concert program, Mr. Cooke will give a short address on some phase of Indian life.

"Anyone who has other than an unbounded faith in the future of Canada, must be either without eyes or mind," declared Sir George McLaren Brown, European general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who returned to the Company's headquarters in Montreal recently after an extended tour of the Western Provinces. Sir George was greatly impressed with the growth of the city of Vancouver, where he halted after an absence of 15 years.

The first annual meeting of the Canadian Boards of Trade was held at Saint John, N.B., October 18th. Over 150 representatives from the civic administrative bodies of every Canadian city gathered at the Windsor Street Station in Montreal, where they entrained and proceeded over the Canadian Pacific lines to Saint John. Matters of vital interest to civic administration were discussed at the three-day convention.

Control of the fish and game industry in the State of Ohio is being sought by a commission composed of five experts on game conservation. This industry is at present in the hands of the Department of Agriculture. The proposal will be placed before the government of the "Canadian fish leagues in Ohio, the belief being that the existence of such a commission would be in accordance with the growing importance of the fish and game industry in that state.

A School on Wheels

1. The interior of the classroom. 2. A corner in the well equipped kitchen. 3. Showing the spacious teacher's sleeping accommodations

IT is doubtful if the news of an approaching circus, heralded by dazzling and wonderful advance posters has ever caused as much joy and excitement as the announcement of the coming of the "Canadian Pacific School Train" into the hinterland of Northern Ontario.

There are more than fifty children in just one sub-division of the Railway who have never been able to go to school for the simple reason that there was no school to go to; but they have all heard of the joys of "school days" and longed for the day when they too might alight at school with a bundle of nice new books under their arm.

A little furor of excitement passed over this district a few days ago when the proclamation went forth that the school train was coming in the middle of September. "School—just think of it—and not the kind of school that the cavied city and town kids have, but a school on wheels—a school that suddenly appears one day and goes and comes again, like a magic castle."

This unique experiment of bringing the school house into the unpeopled paths of this sparsely settled country is being carried on by the Provincial Government of Ontario in co-operation with the Canadian Pacific Railway, with a view to providing educational facilities to the children of railway men and residents in the remote stations along the line in the Northern section of the Province between Chapleau and Sudbury. This territory was selected by the Department of Education after making a thorough survey of the education needs of the north, and should the travelling school prove to be a success it was intimated that the plan probably would be extended to include other railway subdivisions.

The School car is so fascinating that it would make anyone, no matter how old, want to go to school again. About one-half the car is devoted to the school room, which is fitted with desks for little boys and girls and big ones too, a desk for teacher, a blackboard, bookcases with school books and good fiction, and even a real bell to summon the scholars. Behind the school-room is the bedroom of the teacher and in the rear of this again comes a kitchen so thoroughly equipped with everything from stove to teapot, as to bring any into the heart of any housewife. The teacher's name is Walter H. McNally. It is anticipated that the car will stop at about six communities during the month, making a brief visit of from three to six days. Upon leaving the teacher will give the children enough homework to keep them busy until the car returns again in the course of a month.

Fifty years ago the first consignment of wheat was shipped from Western Canada. This shipment of 100 barrels of Red River wheat, the first exportable surplus of the Canadian West at that time, left Winnipeg on October 12, 1876, consigned to J. C. Steele, a grain merchant of Toronto. It was sold for 52 cents per bushel by Higgins & Young of Winnipeg, whose bill head showed them to be "importers of Boots, Shoes, Crockery and Glassware." The wheat was sent by a Red River boat to Dauphin from which point it was shipped by railroad to Toronto, as there were no railroads in Western Canada until the early eighties.

In 1926 - just 50 years later - Canada is the largest wheat exporting country in the world. The crop of the Dominion this year totals nearly 400,000,000 bushels, ninety per cent of which was grown in Western Canada, and that same part of the country now produces hundreds of millions of bushels of oats, barley, rye, flax and an abundance of other field crops and farm products. The wheat crop of the Canadian-West is now a dominant factor in the world's wheat market, and the Canadian Wheat Pool, with its membership of about 150,000 actual farmers in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, controlling approximately 70 per cent of the total wheat acreage in Canada, is the largest farmers' co-operative organization in the world. The pool has selling agents in 21 ports of the world.

The anniversary of this historic event was celebrated by a banquet given by the Winnipeg Board of Trade at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Winnipeg, Tuesday. Two of the men who handled the first shipment were among the speakers. In 1876, the year in which this shipment took place, 14,720 acres were planted to wheat in the Canadian West, the wheat acreage in Western Canada was 21,764,788 acres.

Scots, Scotch Or Scottish

Correct Adjective Has Been Subject of Dispute For Centuries. The British people are all trying to settle a three-century-old verbal controversy, in reference to those people north of the Tweed, which adjective is correct—Scots, Scotch or Scottish.

Ever since the Government ruled a few years ago that "The Scotch Education Office" is in the future to be styled the Scottish Education Office there has been more confusion than enlightenment. Meanwhile, no help has come from "that knuckle-end of England," as Sydney Smith referred to the region beyond the Cheviot Hills.

The northerner is observing his traditional caution and is not ready to accept the Scotch. He is said to prefer Scots. No less a native son than Sir James Barrie, however, while seeming to share this preference, actually declines to accept it. He says in "What Every Woman Knows": "I have forgotten the grandest northerly attribute of a Scot, Margaret, that he'll do nothing which might damage his career."

The English literary pundit reminds the northerner that while Burns' famous war cry:

Scots wha hae wi' Wallace bled,
Scots wha Burne has often led,
Supports the preference for Scots, yet he more frequently used the adjective Scotch. So did another native son, Sir Walter Scott, who further reminds the world that King George IV, once confided to him that "The Scotch are a nation of gentlemen."

Dr. Samuel Johnson was a great authority upon correct usage. One of his valuable contributions to the subject was the stinging epigram, "The noblest prospect that a Scotchman ever sees is the high road that leads him to England."

Canadian Potato Crop

"According to the Dominion Government forecast at September 26th, the Canadian potato crop will amount to 43,472,000 cwt, as compared with 42,779,000 cwt in 1925. The yield per acre is calculated at 33,334,000 cwt; alfalfa at 2,201,000 tons; fodder corn at 4,229,400 tons and sugar beets at 451,000 tons.

Truck and delivery horses owned by the municipality of Berlin have a three-weeks vacation each summer on a 300-acre horse sanitarium in charge of skilled veterinarians. Reports indicate possible envy on the part of human laborers.

New Grain Port Opened

Elevators at Prince Rupert Are Running at Capacity

Canada added a new and important grain port for her marine facilities when at the rate of 20,000 bushels per hour the new Dominion Government elevator at Prince Rupert began loading S.S. Aden Maru with Alberta wheat. The Aden Maru is the first ship to leave this port carrying grain to the markets of the world. She loaded 9,000 tons of bulk wheat to Europe by way of the Panama Canal.

As she proceeded to her berth at the elevator, another Japanese tramp, S.S. Yefuku Maru entered the Prince Rupert dock and shipbuilding plant to be fitted for immediate loading of another grain cargo.

The Alberta grain pool has the elevator under lease and has arranged for a continuous supply of ocean tonnage. The Canadian National Railway is bringing solid grain trains from the prairies each day to keep the million and a quarter bushels grain handling plant running at capacity.

Although the initial shipments are going to Europe, entrance of Japanese shipping interests into the commerce of the port marks the beginning of a large interchange of traffic with the Orient, and Swedish tonnage through the Panama to Europe.

The Road To Success

Willingness To Work and Courage To See The Thing Through

Pioneering is not the rough job it was once. The trees do not need to be cut down. Indeed, we are thinking of new plantations. Nature has been asked to yield to the great desire of the new settler going to the great land of his new career by rail or boat and is supplied with every modern convenience to get about. The tolls of the road are not great. But willingness to work means a little more—it means cheerfulness, courage and a stiff upper lip.

Settlers For Manitoba

Thirty Families From Western Europe To Arrive Shortly

Thirty families from northern Europe are shortly to be settled upon 2,000 acres of land near Selkirk, Manitoba. The area in question was sold at a price of $140,000; the deal being put through by the Canadian Colonization Association. The heads of the families are all practical farmers who have been working on a co-operative basis in Europe. The first of these newcomers are scheduled to reach the grounds this month and the last before the close of March next.

Highway Improvement

Nearly a Million Dollars Spent This Year on Good Roads in the Province.

Nearly a million dollars was spent on highway construction in Saskatchewan during the fiscal year—$966,390.46 to be exact. Since work began, in 1919, on this system of trunk highways, nearly five million dollars have been spent, or in actual figures $1,998,952.64. Exactly two thousand miles of roadways have been built under this plan, according to reports from the Ministry of Highways, and a third of the amount can be credited to main market roads.

B.C. Potatoes Wanted in Mexico

British Columbia's reputation as a potato grower is again on the rise in an order that has come from Mexico for a hundred carloads, according to Captain G. E. Bates, secretary of the British Columbia Potato Growers' Association. Unfortunately, the order had to be turned down owing to its being impossible to supply the specific type of potato required.

Big Wool Clip

The Canadian wool crop for 1926 at 11,000,000 pounds, or an increase of a million over 1925. Eastern domestic wools have been up to standard and western possibility the best ever taken. Nearly four million pounds of this year's clip will likely be handled by the co-operative organization of wool growers.

Will Written on Egg Shell

A will written on an eggshell was submitted recently in an English probate court. The egg had been blown and the will was written on the empty shell with an indelible pencil. It was the testament of a Manchester sheep pen pal.

Sheep And Swine Show

Great Interest Is Taken at Annual Show Held at Saskatoon

The annual sheep and swine show held in Saskatoon opened with the neighborhood of 700 head of stock of all ages, about 400 of which were sheep. The majority of the classes were well filled in the under breeds of both sheep and hogs in both market and breeding lots.

John Wilson of Innisfail, Alta., who judged the sheep, expressed it as his opinion of the quality of the stock that he had never seen the equal of it in western Canada, and that most of the tops in the various classes were exceptionally fine. Judging in the Sheep and Swine Show, which was open close, Harry Follett, of Duval, Sask., and W. S. Benson, of the University of Saskatchewan judged the hogs. Competition in the Yorkshire breeding classes and in the market classes was genuine and drew the majority of the fair crowd of spectators who followed the placings closely.

Four prominent breeders were present—S. A. Parry, Saskatoon; Wm. Darabowich, Laura, Sask.; A. C. Stewart, Abbotsford, B.C., and J. D. Whitehead, Nutana, Sask. The last named breeder was successful in winning the cup which he had offered for the best Saskatchewan bred Shropshire sheep at the show on the eve No. 5094, a beautiful ewe with a fine, deep body and lots of breed type. Other winners by the same breed were first for pen of three ram lambs, first for best ram and ram lamb, first for flock consisting of ram, two ewes and two ewe lambs, besides first for shaggy ram, first ram ewe, first ewe, first for shaggy ewe and second for ewe lamb.

Good Business For Canada

Tourists Spent Nearly $200,000,000 in Dominion Last Year

Tourists from the United States spent $190,000,000 in Canada last year. J. M. Wardle, chief engineer of the Canadian National Parks, told the Good Roads Association at Edmonton, the other day. The sum is more than five times the value of the output of all the gold mines of the country for the year, and is 62 per cent greater than the output of all our metal mines. As the tourist business is good business, since it is all done on a cash basis, and the profits are immediate and beyond question, it would be the part of wisdom for Canada to do what she can to expand it. This can be done in two ways: by inducing more tourists to come and by inducing those who come to remain longer.—Vancouver Province.

Alberta Beet Sugar Industry

The beet sugar factory at Raymond, Alta., is now on its second year's run with a full staff of workmen and adequate supplies of beets. The mill will probably be lifting beets for the next three months. Tonnage is running higher than last year and the sugar content of the beet is improving.

A man without ambition is like a pig of dough without any yeast to raise it.

"King of Swat" Visits Canada

Babe Ruth, idol of the baseball world and whose brilliant exhibition at the plate during the recent world's series only added to his laurels, delighted thousands of his fans when he played in an exhibition game in Montreal recently. Ruth went into action directly from the world's series, with two all-star semi-professional teams with T. B. Shocker, Yankee pitcher on the mound.

The fans were not disappointed for Babe ran the gamut of baseball and showed them everything they expected to see, with the addition of other diversions which were wholly unexpected. Ruth, during the game played first base, shortstop and pitcher and even went behind the plate to home runs in the game. The game was called when it was announced that 36 balls had been driven out of the ball park in practice and in the game and there were none left with which to continue the game. Ruth and Joe Page, director of athletics of the Canadian Pacific Railway, are seen in the photograph which was taken at the Yankee Stadium, while Page was arranging details of Ruth's visit to Canada.

Good Plowing Is Essential

Fundamental Operation on Which Good Crops Are Based

If there is any one implement, any piece of farm equipment, any symbol of clean farming and prosperous agriculture, it is the plow. We can cultivate diligently, choose the best of seed, use fertilizers lavishly and know the science of good farming as it is taught and preached; but good plowing is the basic operation on the farm, and if the plowing is badly done it is likely the whole crop season will be followed through with the same skippy and sloppy attention to the land. Plowing is not the only operation influencing crop yields and weed suppression, but it is the fundamental one, and the manner in which it is done brands the farmer as either thorough and painstaking or careless and indifferent.

The provincial plowing matches are of utmost significance, but the local matches are where the great rank and file of younger men get their inspiration and experience. More honor is due the winner of one of these matches than is deserved by the champion plow or the hero of the rugby field; but honors are unequally bestowed in these days, and sometimes misplaced. In spite of that, however, every encouragement should be given to the plowing match, and particularly to the younger men who are brave enough to match against each other their skill and prowess with the plow.

Tar Sand Paving Material

Bituminous Sand Deposits in Northern Alberta Attract Much Attention

The Fort McMurray bituminous sand deposits—the raw material for road paving—continue to attract much attention and interest as the source of an important new industry. S. C. Ellis, engineer of the Dominion Mines Branch, speaks of the industry as being destined to great uses in the future while analysts' reports from laboratories in the United States and England concur in speaking well of the samples received by them.

A Promising Oil Well

Cores taken from the Ribstone Blackfoot well which the Imperial Oil is drilling on the structure about 20 miles south of Lloydminster are impregnated with a heavy oil, according to Manager T. Draper of the Imperial Oil Limited, headquarters in Calgary. The cores were taken at a depth of 1,850 to 1,950 feet. The oil showings indicate an oil similar to that in the Walbridge field. The oil is about as thick as molasses and gives possibilities of a good well, so the Imperial Oil experts say.

Canadian Farmer Has Relatively Happy Position Compared With Those In Other Zones

Community Breeding Of The Saddle Horse

Farmers Receiving Attractive Prices

In organizing the Remount Horse Breeding Station in Frontenac county, Ontario, in 1922, the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa did a good service not only for the farmers of the district but also for those who desire to buy saddle horses. The district served by the station has produced three crops of half-bred foals from the thoroughbred stallions placed with it by the Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Ontario Racing Association. At the recent horse show at the stables near Kingston, about 100 head of young stock were exhibited. Although the mares that produced these were of general purpose type and of varied breeding, the young stock were strikingly uniform, showing pronounced thoroughbred characteristics and possessed of sufficient weight to make first rate cavalry or saddle horses. The show brought out their own parents, showing that the district is a source of promising saddle horses. The headquarters of the station is the fourteen-bred acre farm of Major Palmer Wright near Chaffey's Locks, who is himself a breeder of considerable extent. Presently to the Dominion Government by King George, was one of the horses that stood in this neighborhood and is leaving his mark in an admirable way on the young stock of the district.

Many people have the idea that farming in the so-called north temperate zone such as is characteristic of the northern United States and Canada, is attended by climatic difficulties and embarrassments which are unknown in the sub-tropical areas of the south. The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa points out, however, that the Canadian farmer is in a relatively happy position. This growing season is fairly well defined. His crops are of a type that are sufficiently resistant to the changes of temperature and wind and, to a less extent, moisture, as to leave him with comparatively few worries during the bulk of the growing season. Moreover, summer weather in Canada is particularly favorable to plant growth on account of the unusually long days of clear shining, with periodic showers.

It must not be imagined that more southern districts do not offer definite problems as to climate. In the sub-tropical belts, favored as they are in many ways as to climate, much fight is against frosts in California; how to protect his crops by walls or hedges against high winds as in the Azores, in Malta and in Southern France; manufacturing articles for the tropics and the equatorial regions, and so on.

Thus it will be seen that every attitude has its own problems in agriculture, and everything being considered, Canada, with its wholesome summer sunshine, periodic showers, and its relative freedom from cyclonic disturbances, is beautifully blessed by providence and will become increasingly desirable as a land for agricultural development due to the complexity of her crops, the relatively simple problems of cultivation, the increasing land values and the substantial returns.

Can Keep Honey Indefinitely

Does Not Mould or Spoil Under Proper Conditions

Honey, like other highly concentrated sugar solutions, will keep well for a long time, with proper care, as it does not readily mould, ferment or spoil. It will, however, absorb moisture, and if exposed to a moist atmosphere, may become diluted to the point where fermentation occurs. It should be kept in a dry, warm, airy place, writes A. H. W. Birch, apiarist at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Temperature is not so important in the storage of honey as it is in the case of large quantities are stored it is enormously necessary, owing to the enormous weight to use the cellar, which, though it may be cool, must not be damp. The containers of honey ought always to be tightly closed to exclude moisture and incidentally ants, should they gain access to the storeroom. Well ripened honey will keep for years if stored where it will not attract moisture.

Settlers From US

Migration from South of the Border Reported to Be Active

Immigration to Canada of farm settlers from the United States for the month of September was particularly active, according to reports received from the agencies of the Department of Immigration and Colonization. In September the agency at Fargo, North Dakota, headed the list of the 15 agencies of the Department in the United States with a total of 675 persons sent to Canada, an increase of 300 over September, 1925. These 675 settlers brought with them cash and effects valued at $128,095. Only 10 were not of the farming class.

The agent at Syracuse, N.Y., reports that more settlers have been sent to Canada through his office since April of this year, than in any year since 1915. Reports for September from the other agencies show increased migration of the best class of farm settlers, when compared with September in recent years.

New Anglo-Turkish Pact

Will Help in Fighting Soviet Propaganda in Near East

Negotiations are proceeding for an Anglo-Turkish pact which, while stabilizing the position of the Ankara government, will solve many of Great Britain's difficulties in the near east. Turkish finances are in a bad way and one of the features of the proposed agreement is a substantial loan to Turkey by British banks.

Turkey also is in fear of France transferring the Syrian mandate to Italy and is depending upon Great Britain to support the plan.

Great Britain would gain the help of Turkey in fighting soviet propaganda in the near east.

Do Not Recommend Increase

Conciliation Board Not in Favor of Granting Wage Increase to Railwaymen

Recommending that there be no increase in wages of fifteen thousand conductors, trainmen and yardmen of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways, the board of conciliation, appointed July 28, last, to investigate the wage dispute between the employees and the companies, has filed a majority report with the minister of labor.

This report is signed by Mr. Justice Hugh T. Kelly, of Toronto, chairman of the board, and by Isaac Pihlback, K.C., the representative of the railway companies.

A minority report, bearing the signature of David Campbell, of Winnipeg, representing the employees, recommends among other things, that the increase of six per cent awarded by the United States labor board to conductors, trainmen and yardmen two years ago, be adopted in Canada.

The majority report says the claim based on the McAdoo award has no relevance in Canada as there is no arbitrary power to fix rates, no unjust increased operation costs, even the United States board being out of existence. Further, the board sees no compulsion on Canadian roads to follow United States scales.

The minority report also says the claim for increased pay is based on the fact that prior to the war Canadian railway employees were better paid than those in the United States, which is not now the case. Another claim, Mr. Campbell states, is that climatic conditions are more rigorous in Canada and tend to make living more expensive and the work more hazardous than in the United States.

Requisite on the Farm.—Every farmer and stock raiser should keep a supply of Dr. Thomas' Kidney Pills on hand, not only as a ready remedy for him in the family, but because it is a horse and cattle medicine of great potency. As a substitute for sweet oil for horses and cattle affected by colic it far surpasses anything that can be administered.

It is easier for the average man to draw the line than it is for him not to stop over it later.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON NOVEMBER 11 CALEB'S FAITHFULNESS REWARDED

Golden Text: I wholly followed Jehovah my God. Joshua, 14:8. Lesson: Joshua, 14:8-15. Devotional Reading: Psalm 15.

Explanations and Comments

1. The Division of Canaan, verses 1-8. The land of Canaan was divided among the twelve tribes whose founders were the two sons of Joseph (Ephraim and Manasse) and the other sons of Jacob, Levi excepted. The total number of tribes remained twelve throughout the history of Israel, though as time passes we see the tribe of Simeon practically becoming a part of the tribe of Judah, and the two half tribes of Manasse, the one east and the other west of the Jordan, practically counting as two tribes. This is Judah; this is Asher; this is Simeon; and this is Benjamin; they said, even while the Amorites, the Jebusites, and the Hittites were in possession. The division made was the announcement in faith of certain high ideals which under God's guidance they proposed to realize by the long and patient struggle which followed.

Also for the dull-eyed lumberman whose aspirations never get a nod in advance of their present achievements. Unless we personally see visions and dream dreams we shall never have the moral vigor, the spiritual insight for winning a land of promise. It is what we see by the eye of faith and confidently wait for that kindles our hearts to undertake the higher tasks of life. If we committed only what can already be measured off by the surveyor's chain or weighed up on the hay scales, making no allowance for those hidden and supernatural forces which aid us covertly at work around us and within us, we should fail utterly. It was one of the clearest of the truths of life that we chosen and inspired people that their plans reached out into a hope-ful future, that they were to be divided up great stretches of country still in the hands of their foes."—(Dr. C. R. Brown.)

When the hilarious guests, some of them frankly boisterous, began to reassemble into their original groupings and say their good nights, Joanna's gorgeous town was crushed, her shimmering hair fluffed, and her face sparkling. The night had been like wine to her, and she was vital with the stimulus of it. Dominator wanted to linger at his parlor, but she would not at him. When she saw that his face clouded she was promptly penitent and gave him her hand to kiss. To Kenneth she was more serious. She looked up at him rather shyly.

"You know," he said, "I am taking a very marvelous memory with me."

"The good to it," was all the comfort she would give him.

Yvonne was contentedly weary. "I always shudder at the sight of the debris after a night like this," she informed Joanna when the last guest had gone merrily on his way. "Shall we go up stairs to my room. We can talk it all over, and as the party must be talked about before one goes to bed, you know."

They talked until the sun broke into Yvonne's boudoir. Then Joanna, in her fitting pajamas and transparent, rolled down long stockings, obeyed Yvonne's command that she run along for at least two hours of sleep. She didn't sleep, however, but sat in her canopy bed, her knees drawn up, her chin resting on them. Martha, her own maid, found her sitting there on the unmused coverlets which were just as they had been turned down the night before, the warm sunlight bathing her figure and making a yap-ice of her gold brown hair. The pearls which had been her only jeweled ornament still glinted around her throat. A dower that had remained pinned to her dress throughout the evening was crushed on her lap. Joanna saw Martha come in, but looked at her blankly for almost a minute before she comprehended her. Then she curried ordered her bath.

Silhouetted in the great quiet room that seemed to resent her smartness and the youth of her.

Brandon had arranged with her for the visit, that day, to his home on the Avenue. They planned for Joanna to pick Brandon up at his own office in a downtown skyscraper and drive him, in her new and smart cabriolet, to the Egyptian mansion. This appointment had been for one o'clock, as they were to lunch with the banker. The cabriolet, with its chauffeur in gray that matched the silken loveliness within, drew up in front of Yvonne's shortly after eleven. Joanna, soft and graceful and elegant in beautiful for trimmed model, a little black hat pulled down over her eyes, and carrying a pinned awiger stick in her hand, tripped lightly down the steps and into her car. Martha had turned her out quickly to make it possible for her to meet him on so short a notice. Yet there was nothing of drowsiness in her face or her eyes. She was alert, vibrant, and confident of the supreme perfection of her appearance.

She made her driver put his head inside the door while she gave him instructions—orders that seemed explanations and repetition.

The car did not go down the Avenue in the swiftly moving panorama of other smart cabriolets, toward the office building where Brandon, later would be waiting for her. Instead it turned into one of the drab streets, also avenues but only in name, and moved upward between the pillars of the elevated railroad into neighborhoods most visited by delivery and freight vans. It came at last to a cross street which showed a district of tenements of the better grade—old dwellings made into furnished rooms and cramped house-keeping flats; much the kind of homes as that which had been Joanna's at Mrs. Adams'.

The chauffeur, counted the house numbers, many of which were hidden. Joanna gave him more directions through her speaking tube. He stopped just beyond a corner and opened the cabriolet door.

"It is the fourth house from here on this side," Joanna explained. "You will recognize it by the sign at the side of the door. It reads 'John Wilmore, architect.' There'll be an old woman with a rag tied around her head come to the door—it any of the children answer you tell them to get the old woman, she's the landlady. She's all right, if she doesn't think you're an officer come to tell her in for having a flower pot or something on the fire escape. If she does she'll slam the door in your face, so you'd better stick this bill in her hands as soon as she sees you. Then she'll tell you if Mr. Wilmore is in. If he is give her an other bill and tell her to keep her mouth shut about the inquiry. If he isn't tell her that I'm coming in to talk to her."

CHAPTER XIX.

A Visit to John's Quarters

From her silk cushions in the cabriolet Joanna waited impatiently until her chauffeur, after a brief rap at the door of the house to which she had sent him, returned. The man said: "The woman came. She says Mr. Wilmore is not at home."

"Then you may wait for me here."

A half score of street urchins already had gathered about the smartly shining cabriolet, its dull gray shades carried from its dirty flints by the satilla sheen of its expensive hood. Such an imposing car seldom invaded that neighborhood and its placid company of phantas of the days when the streets of home and not mere sleeping quarters.

The slim, elegant figure that few patrons of a silk counter would have recognized, sat at the urinals, peering through them, and entered, dazing into the depths of the house where John had found for himself a tiny sleeping room and another, a larger one, with the precious north light which he could turn into his workroom.

During the days John served at his apprenticeship with the firm of architects who provided him his necessary training. His tasks were recognized. A bright future was predicted for him. But, so far, John's returns had been indeed meager—as is the usual condition of the student of a difficult profession. If, at times, Foreman, Van Brent & Co. were dubious of the young John Wilmore, it was because he was inclined to be a dreamer. That is, they, his tutors and employers, were of the mind that was much too eager to skip such fundamental details as the proper angle of a drain pipe and contemplate monumental harmonies.

Perhaps John would have agreed with the wisest heads that gulped him through his student possibilities. Perhaps that was why he confined his dreaming, as far as possible, to his one large room, and worked there, over his drawing board, with his blue prints and tracers—by the north light in the early mornings, and the incandescent light through the evenings that had not been Joanna's.

The "old woman" who faced the girl with the swaggar stick inside the drab hallways, never had been, was she not so frankly frowny, a replica of Mrs. Adams. She once had been on the stage. The flood gates of her wondrous memories were ever at the point of lifting. Between her and "John's" girl barriers had broken down forever when Joanna, who on more than one occasion sat through an evening with John in his workroom, trying as best she could to fathom the things he talked about, under her come a man recount the triumphs of old with its curtain calls and its jealousies and marvelous romances. Joanna admitted to John, at that time, that she would much rather hear his landlady's mon-logue than listen to him rave about garrets and such musty things. The incident was considerably dramatized when she recalled "John's" girl in the radiant vision which smiled so sweetly at her. There was, even, thrilling drama in her elaborate service to the code that "asks no questions and gets no snubbing." She measured Joanna from smart little hat to smart, sapphire-buttoned suède, and reached her own conclusions over the swaggar stick, but she said only: "Of course you say, Miss. You can go right in. Mr. John's been gone since breakfast. He isn't been doing much work of late, it seems, because he's seemed kind of restless like."

For some mysterious reason the landlady's gaze rested on the sapphire-buttoned suède, as if the depths of them contained the explanation of her lodger's sudden illness.

Little Helps For This Week

He that loveth not knoweth not God, for God is love.—John I, 8.

Yet while I love, say God the most, I deem

That I can never love you enough;

I love Him more, so let me love you too;

Yes, yea, I apprehend it, love is such I cannot love you if I love not Him.

I cannot love Him if I love not you.

—Christina G. Rossetti.

Love to the Lord cannot possibly exist apart from neighborly love. For the Lord's love is love to the whole human race, which He desires to save eternally, and to adopt entirely to Himself, so as for none of them to perish. Wherefore, whosoever has love to the Lord has the Lord's love, and cannot help loving his neighbor.

—Emmanuel Swedenborg.

High Altitudes Are Reached

Tropical Climate Is Found Far Above the Earth

The tropics are not the only place to go for tropical weather. If man could ever get there, he would find a tropical climate far above the earth. At very high altitudes the air becomes extremely warm, according to Dr. H. H. Turner, professor of astronomy at Oxford University. This statement has been confirmed by observations of meteors entering the earth's atmosphere. Although aviators can only get a few miles off the earth's surface, an unmanned instrument carrying balloons ascend no more than twenty miles, the observation of meteors, or shooting stars, extends knowledge of our atmosphere up to about fifty miles.

Italian Women Are Barred From Office

Not Eligible for Municipal Positions in New Ruling

By a decree made in the Ministry of Internal Affairs, Italian women have been definitely cut off from all participation in the political life of the nation.

It now rules, in fact, that women are not eligible for the post of Podesta. The Podestas are the Italian equivalent of Mayors, except that they are appointed by the National Government instead of being elected by popular suffrage.

The women's suffrage movement had undergone strange vicissitudes under Mussolini's Government in Italy. First he granted the women the right to vote in municipal elections which was generally interpreted as the first step toward granting them suffrage in political elections. No sooner had this been enacted than the adoption of the system, by Podesta, suppressing municipal elections, deprived the women of their newly acquired right to vote.

The recent ruling by the Ministry of Internal Affairs rob them also of the right of becoming heads of municipalities which they had won when they were granted the municipal suffrage.

Observe Ancient Custom

Remote Districts of Turkey Still Have Death Crier

In remote districts of Turkey, quaint customs still linger despite Angora's swift modernization.

One of the strangest is in the distant village of Cesare, whenever a death occurs, a public crier shouts the news through the streets. Even though the death occurs in the depths of the night, the crier immediately shouts out the doleful tidings and wakes all the living villagers with his cries.

The post of Public Death Crier was established many years ago by the British, an official organization controlling religious affairs, which still continues to pay the crier a regular salary for the performance of his grim duty.

A slot machine that distinguishes coins by both their size and weight has been invented, making it impossible to substitute a franc for a quarter or a piece of lead for a coin.

The host eat in sixteen years by Canadian sealers is attributed to the cooperation of air men who from their machines indicated where the animals congregated in the largest numbers.

Mrs. W. H. Yates, Ashern, Man., writes:—"I was bothered very much with my heart and nerves, and the least noise would make me jump and almost stop my heart beating. I told my mother about it one day, and she said that she had been bothered the same way and told me to get a box of

An Oil that is Famous.—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. CARRIED WIFE TO BED

Suffered So She Could Not Walk. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minneapolis, Ontario.—"I am a practical nurse and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all suffering women. For three months I was almost helpless and could not sit at the table long enough to drink a cup of tea. Many a time my husband carried me to bed, I would be so weak. Then he read in the paper of a woman suffering as I did who got better after taking the Vegetable Compound, so he went and got it for me. When I had taken three bottles I was just like a new woman and had splendid health ever since. When I feel any bearing-down pains I always take it. Mrs. Neal Bowser, R.R. 1, Minneapolis, Ontario. Do you feel broken down, nervous, and weak sometimes? Do you have this horrid feeling of fear which sometimes comes to women when they are not well? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent to take such a time. It always helps and I taken regularly and persistently will relieve this condition."

An attempt is being made by the Canadian railroad companies to receptacles standardized in order to facilitate its handling. A meeting between representatives of the rail-was generally conceded that minimum specifications for baggage construction should be adopted.

Reports of recklessness on the part of motorists continue to be received at the headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway. In the majority of cases the accidents are reported to have been the result of negligence on the part of the car owners. Two accidents at public crossings were reported recently:
one near Wingham when a Ford coupe ran into the side of a train which was proceeding slowly over a crossing. The second accident occurred when a truck was driven in front of a C.P.R. train at a crossing near Chatham. The train was backing over the crossing at three miles an hour. In each case crossing and engine signals were given.
